

Impact of architecture on the individual

–Krish and Sharon, GICL

- ▶ Architecture is basically our physical environment and it is evident that the environment does have an effect on the individual
- ▶ Moreover, every individual is different and therefore, the architecture or the environment around them does have an impact.

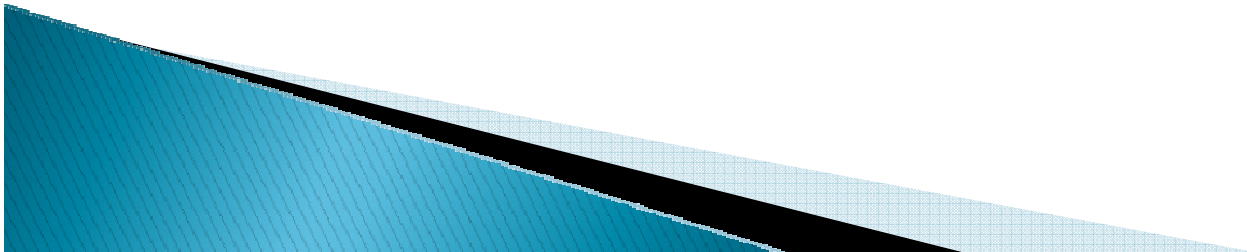

In the example of open plan offices, the architecture does impact the individual

- ▶ They may be easily distracted by the noise
- ▶ Does not allow one to concentrate

On the other hand,

- ▶ It also caters collaboration (Forced collaboration?)

We must consider...

Allow me to collaborate

Allow me to socialize or relax

Allow me to work alone

Allow me to reflect and reach for resources
